Breath of Life Television Ministries is bringing the message of Christ's resurrection to living rooms across the country this Sunday, April 12, 2020, as ABC affiliates will broadcast, "The Awakening." MORE

"First and foremost, I know this is God's church. He will absolutely care for His people. It may be uncomfortable and uncertain from our perspective. But I trust in Him to carry us through." In an interview, NAD treasurer Randy Robinson shares information on the church's finances, the future, and his appreciation for a faithful church family. READ MORE
“Our hearts struggle to accept the reality of death. Existence is such a persuasive experience that we simply cannot conceive of a world in which we no longer exist. As a small child I used to spend more time than a youngster probably should trying to imagine a universe without me: how is it possible that prior to 1969 I did not exist at all?” READ MORE of Shawn Boonstra's message on life, death, and the Resurrection.

While society at large has taken a metaphorical detour in terms of its normal operation with the closing of businesses and schools, the needs of the marginalized remain. Here are glimpses into three services operating within the NAD that have remained committed to serving their disenfranchised populations as they face daily evolving challenges and the potential dangers presented by the coronavirus disease. Walla Walla University will offer a Doctor of Social Work program,

On March 6, Versacare Foundation awarded $1,420,000 in grant funding to 189 Adventist primary starting June 2020. The 2.5-year online program will provide a focus on teaching in higher education and preparation for leadership positions in the social work profession. “One of our goals for this program is to train scholars who will change the landscape of professional social work practice through research, education, and leadership,” said Susan Smith, WWU professor of social work and sociology and director of the D.S.W. program. April 11 is Christian Record Services offering Sabbath! Christian Record Services for the Blind gave Marye McKenney hope and connection with a church community. Like you, many people who are blind are missing relationships, especially now in this time of nationwide isolation, lockdowns, and social distancing. Watch Marye’s story, “Give Hope!” and consider donating to Christian Record on Sabbath, April 11. Together we can help people who are blind connect with Christ and enjoy fellowship with a community that celebrates their potential for ministry. Materials for churches are available HERE or GIVE ONLINE.

Faith For Today launches a new virtual Bible study series, "The Bible Lab," as a resource for those sheltering in place. The ICE-O-LATION Sessions are interactive Bible studies with Speaker/Director Roy Ice, where participants have the ability to study together form their own homes. The Bible Lab meets on Sabbath mornings at 10:30 a.m. PDT. For more information visit: www.TheBibleLab.com.

Act now — Is your church live-streaming? We want to hear from you! The NAD has compiled a list of churches that are currently live-streaming their services. Click here to send a detailed email, including church name, link to the stream, language the service is presented in, city and state, timezone, and pastor/AV contact information. We want to include your church!

As COVID-19 cases continue to grow, many churches are reducing and/or canceling religious gatherings and services — or temporarily going to online services. AdventistGiving allows you to return your tithe and give your offerings online, in a secure way, while you do your online banking, or even if you are unable to attend church due to an illness or COVID-19 closing. LEARN MORE

Protect Your Zoom Meetings from Being Hijacked! Do you find yourself spending a lot more time these days on video conference calls? So do Internet hackers. With much of the world under some form of stay-at-home order or lockdown due to the COVID-19 pandemic, employees are increasingly using Zoom and other video conferencing platforms for work, school, and even church. Hackers, called “Zoombombers,” have seized this opportunity and are causing havoc in virtual meetings, online classrooms, and video calls worldwide. READ MORE

"Are we too busy peddling platitudes, prophetic prose, and prohibitive policies to plant the products that we preach? God forbid! May it never be so! Saving grace, born of salvation, and fearless pursuit of the mission of Christ. ... These are the seeds that God has given us. ... These seeds are gifts of God, crafted by the Holy Spirit, uniquely for you and for me. When 'dream seeds' are planted, fertilized, and grow, the fruit of the spirit, mentioned in Galatians 5:22-23, becomes evident. Don't just peddle the seeds of your ministry. Plant them, cultivate them, climb upon the branches, and prepare to reap your harvest."

— Paul Anderson, director/endorser of Adventist Chaplaincy Ministries for the North American Division, referencing the "Jack and the Beanstalk" story he recently told his grandchild, as he offered a devotional thought during NAD staff worship on April 8, 2020
