“We have to always be open [to] re-educating ourselves, reconfiguring and rethinking.”

During the NAD's 2023 Educators' Convention, held Aug.7-10 in Phoenix, Ariz., a seminar on the 21st-century challenges impacting educators highlighted continuous learning as the key to staying relevant amid technological advances and shifting societal and economic norms. With 300 seminars spread across six breakout sessions, the convention underscored that the best educators are lifelong learners. MORE
This past year saw the creation of a new Pathfinder honor. My own daughter, along with two of her friends, were the initial catalyst to beta-test and help develop the requirements. As we did so, it became an opportunity to look at little-known or even unknown stories of early Adventist women. READ MORE

When my sons were little, we would occasionally play hide-and-seek. It didn’t matter where we were — in the house, in the yard, or on vacation somewhere — there were always enough hiding places to make it fun. I would count to 10, and the kids would scamper around attempting to find some item large enough to conceal them from sight. READ MORE
